Readers' RESPONSE

To the Editor:

One thing distresses me about the Evangel that perhaps has become a necessity; that is the advertisements, especially those that encourage churches to buy and sell items to raise funds for their churches. It may be a biased opinion, but I am a firm believer in depending on God for all manner of funds that need to be raised. —MRS. LUCY BENNETT Hialeah, Fla.

To the Editor:

There are many of us in California who would like for you to compile a book of your editorials; they are such a blessing. I still have the July 15, 1937 Evangel on the night table for reading. "Revelation by Conversation" was your title that week; I feel God spoke through that article. Many since then have been of the same quality and if they were in one volume for quick reading in the morning and night, I believe they would be of untold value. Your consideration to this will be appreciated and our prayers are for the continued growth of the Evangel.

—MRS. RALPH E. WILLIAMS
Fresno, Calif.

To the Editor:

I received the April 14 issue of the Evangel and have read it through in its entirety.

Kentucky readers from many sources have complimented your editorials in the Evangel. We appreciate them very much. George Britt's articles have rated many favorable compliments, also. The notices of the Evangel have been nice. In the Readers' Response, I note you publish criticism as well as compliments. That is to be appreciated.

—T. A. PERKINS
Lexington, Ky.

To the Editor:

I should like to tell you of my appreciation for the Evangel. I really enjoy reading the Evangel more now than at any other time I can think of and I have been a reader of the paper for about 15 years. I especially enjoy the editorials as I find them both interesting and sound and, very needy messages for our times. I also enjoy the other articles such as those on prophecy by Brother Britt and on ministerial ethics by Brother Paulk.

DECLARATION OF FAITH

WEBSITE

1. In the verbal inspiration of the Bible. 2. In one God eternally existing in three persons; namely, the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. That Jesus Christ is the only begotten Son of the Father, conceived of the Holy Ghost, and born of the Virgin Mary. That Jesus was crucified, buried, and raised from the dead; that He ascended to heaven and is today at the right hand of the Father as the Intercessor. 4. That all have sinned and come short of the glory of God, and that repentance is commanded of God for all and necessary for forgiveness of sins. 5. That justification, regeneration, and the new birth are wrought by faith in the blood of Jesus Christ. 6. In sanctification subsequent to the new birth, through faith in the blood of Christ; through the Word, and by the Holy Ghost. 7. Holiness to be God's standard of living for His people. 8. In the baptism of the Holy Ghost subsequent to a clean heart. 9. In speaking with other tongues as the Spirit gives utterance, and that it is the initial evidence of the baptism of the Holy Ghost. 10. In water baptism by immersion, and all who repent should be baptized in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. 11. Divine healing is provided for all in the anointment. 12. In the Lord's Supper and washing of the saints' feet. 13. In the premillennial second coming of Jesus. First, to resurrect the righteous dead and to catch away the living saints to Him in the air. Second, to reign on the earth a thousand years. 14. In the bodily resurrection; eternal life for the righteous and eternal punishment for the wicked.

How Does

Light Affect You?

The Editor's Message

ONE RECENT SUMMER some friends and I made a tour of a famous scenic attraction—deep, exotically beautiful subterranean caverns. Deep into the earth we went, through one huge cavern after another, beholding scenes of overwhelming splendor. Indescribable beauty is buried there far below the surface of the earth.

However, neither of the stalagmites that reared themselves grotesquely from the cavern floors, nor the stalactites that clung like petrified icicles to the lofty ceilings, impressed me as much as something that was not even supposed to be an attraction. It was a fish! A goldfish. What had once been a goldfish, anyway. This fish had been placed in a pool far back in the caverns, where it lived in its cool waters in absolute darkness. Quite infrequently it saw the dull gleam of a guide's flashlight, or the brief glow of a soft display light—but then there was pitch darkness again. When the guide turned his flashlight into the pool and showed us the "goldfish" I marveled that its gold was almost all gone! Instead of being gold it was turning to a chalky white. Our guide explained that the darkness had caused it, and that the sun would restore its golden beauty.

Outside the caverns the flowers were a multicolored flame of beauty as they tossed in the blazing sunlight; the trees and the lawns were decked with rich, lush green. And the goldfish was fading away in the dark.

Recently I looked with regret at a faded, bleached book jacket that had once been a livid red, but now was a sickly grey, slightly speckled with a nauseous pink. What had happened? The jacket had been exposed to the sun and its beauty had disappeared. Exposure to the sunlight gave the living leaves and grass and flowers richness of color, and it would have restored the fish's color—yet it had ruined the book jacket by stripping it of its bright color. You see, the grass and leaves and the flowers and the fish were alive, throbberingly alive, and the jacket was dead.

Living things not only are able to endure the light, but they actually flourish in, and have their beauty enhanced by it. Whereas, the fierce light bleaches inanimate or dead or artificial objects. Note this carefully: light preserves LIVING color and destroys ARTIFICIAL color.

The light of the gospel is like that. Those who have genuine, Christian life exult in the power of the gospel, for it adds depth and richness to their spiritual color. They are real, and their lives are beautiful. Recently I was told of a gentle mother by her adoring daughter, a mature, intelligent librarian: "I have never seen anyone read any current book of any type with more earnestness than my mother read her Bible. Even though I knew she had read every passage in it time and again, I was constantly amazed at the way her face would light up as she read."

Do you read the Bible with verve equal to that which you read the news, the current best sellers, the reading fare you consume? Does the gospel thrill you? Does the name of Jesus excite and exalt you? Does correction help you and make you better? Do you ever hold your own life up before your personal inspection so it can be improved?

Or—does the light dazzle you, annoy you, hurt you, strip you of your sham and artificiality? Does the light of the gospel reveal you less beautiful when it is focused on you, or does it enhance and enrich your beauty by revealing the true depth of your spiritual color? If the gospel robs you of your beauty, perhaps it was never real; if the presence of Christ does not give you more zest and life, perhaps you have no spiritual life to begin with. Remember, the glorious, heavenly light will enrich living color, and cast aside artificial color.

Then, too, the beauty of the living soul must remain in the light or lose itself. Hidden away in the black recesses of the caverns, the little fish had faded away, had lost its one distinguishing mark. So will darkness rob you if you are alive in Christ. You must remain in the light!

Do not be afraid to expose yourself to the light of God! If you are alive in Him, it will give you added beauty. If you are dead to genuine spirituality, He will give you life. If you have played in the darkness until your spiritual beauty is gone, expose yourself to Him and He will restore you.

International Pentecostal Assemblies

By L. Sigsbee Miller, D.D.

Secretary

THE INTERNATIONAL Pentecostal Assemblies is successor to the Association of Pentecostal Assemblies, founded March 14, 1921, by the Reverend Mrs. Elizabeth A. Sexton, her daughter, the late Dr. Hattie M. Barth, and the Reverend Paul T. Barth; and the National and International Pentecostal Missionary Union founded in 1914 by Dr. Philip Wittich.

These two groups were founded in the days of the great outpouring of the Holy Ghost, when faith was strong and hunger for God's Word was most sincere. In 1936 these two associations amalgamated under the name of International Pentecostal Assemblies, and have, by God's leadings, sought to follow in the same path. We were then, and still are, of the opinion that it is not machinery that we need, but God; the Holy Ghost to guide Spirit-filled men to follow God's revelation for the age in which we live, that we be of one heart and spirit, that those to whom we minister shall be prepared for the kingdom to come.

We are most charitable toward all who seek the leading of the Holy Spirit in full reality. We are a cooperative fellowship and believe that on a true fellowship basis, God's people can and will take the full gospel message to the ends of the earth.

We are, and have been from the beginning, a member of the Pentecostal Fellowship of North America. We are also a member of the National Association of Evangelicals.

The Bridegroom's Messenger is the official organ of the International Pentecostal Assemblies, and we believe it to be one of the oldest, if not the oldest, Pentecostal publications in print today. It was started in 1907 in Atlanta, Georgia, by the Barths, and was edited by Dr. Hattie Barth until her death in 1956. We have an efficient operating force in both the home and foreign missions fields. We greatly desire that the missionary cause of our Lord Jesus Christ be promoted in all lands; that efficient methods be used in our organization, and that an interorganization cooperation be developed that pleases the Master, for the benefit of the millions who have never heard the gospel story or tasted its miracle-working power.

The Executive Board consists of:

Chairman	J. A. Keiller
Vice-Chairman	Wm. M. Spencer
Secretary	L. Sigsbee Miller, D.D.
Treasurer	Miss Beda Jacobson
Missionary Secretary	Miss Louise I. Arnold
National Field Representative	Walter Gravlin
National Youth Director	Edward McDonald

The general field is divided into regions, with regional directors, appointed by the Executive Board upon recommendation of the regions.

Our Bible schools are:

Beulah Heights Bible Institute, Atlanta, Georgia

We believe this school to be one of the oldest Pentecostal Bible schools presently in operation. It was founded by the Barths in the early 1900's and has sent preachers, missionaries and Christian workers to all parts of the earth.

The William Carter Bible College and Evangelical Theological Seminary, Goldsboro, North Carolina

This also is one of our graduate colleges. It is located at Seminary Park in Goldsboro, North Carolina. While this college is not so old, it has grown very rapidly under the direction of Dr. Wm. Howard Carter, its founder and president. It is both nationally and internationally recognized as a standard college.

While our organization is small and our churches and ministers comparatively few, we are happy to be associated and identified with the great Pentecostal movement that is sweeping over the world today.

New Church Building at Hilliard

The new building was dedicated last June. The Reverend A. M. Phillips, our very able, consecrated and dedicated state overseer, brought the dedicatorial message. As usual, Brother Phillips brought a soul-stirring message. In part he said, "In this building you can find soul cure for the ills of this evil world, soul rest for those who are troubled. Inside this house you may pause to pray and find Jesus, the prayer-answerer. Men may come and find glorious victories inside this house of God."

Oh, that men everywhere could catch this vision portrayed so realistically by our inspiring state overseer!

Brother Stone deserves much credit for the beautiful new building. He gave of his time and money to advance the building program. At the time he left the church the building was almost free of debt.

Parsonage Purchased in Selma

SELMA, Calif.—The Church of God in Selma is moving forward in its expansion program with the purchase of a two-story, eight-room frame dwelling to be used for the church parsonage. The parsonage property, 62 x 137, has a garage and is next to the property of the church, making the property a block wide. This brings the value of the church to $20,000.

The parsonage is being paid for and furnished by the Ladies' Willing Workers' Band at $35 per month. Sister H. B. Glenn is the president.

The pastor is Rev. H. B. Glenn who has been here since July 1957. During this time the Lord has been richly blessing. We had an average of 84 in December, reaching an all-time high of 160 in Sunday School attendance. The church has recently conducted 2 revivals with 32 saved and 9 filled with the Holy Ghost. The church is sponsoring a Junior Lamplighters Club. Brother William Londagin is the counselor and a Junior service is conducted each week with much interest from the children as they learn the Word of God, singing, and devotion. Remember us in prayer. —Wm. Londagin, reporter

District Convention Is Inspirational

SOUTH UNION, Wash.—The Kelso district convention was held at South Union Church of God, Washington, on February 21, 22. God blessed continually throughout the convention. The conviction spirit was heavy in the Friday night service as Brother Norman Jones, of Salem, Oregon, brought a message, "I Saw the Wicked Buried That Had Come and Gone From the Place of the Holy." Many received a greater burden for souls.

On Saturday morning, Brother Jesse L. Smith, from Albany, Oregon, spoke on "Depths in God." Brother Moore, Overseer of Washington, taught on Church of God doctrine. We were stirred to find a closer walk with God. Our state youth director, Brother Paul Hooker, spoke in the afternoon service on "The Certain Man," and the Ladies' Willing Workers' Band concluded with special singing and a short inspiring message by Sister Alice Pranger, from Auburn, Washington. The Ladies' Willing Workers' Band served two nice meals.

The evening service was outstanding also as God showered His blessing. Brother Ronnie Helton, home from Hawaii, brought the message and told us of how God is moving in the Islands. We felt the Spirit of God moving us to help more than ever.

Special singing, shouts of praise and showers of blessings warned Satan we had "prayed through." We are looking forward to the youth camp and camp meeting, expecting great things of God.

Teachers' Training Course Given

PULASKI, Va.—The Church of God in Pulaski, Virginia and its Sunday School faculty has just completed Workers' Training Course No. 3. The course was taught by a well-qualified instructor, Mrs. John A. Sanders, who has had many years of experience as a schoolteacher. The course was well-attended with the enrollment reaching 46. Along with the regular attendance there were some who sat in while the course was being taught. Knowing that our teachers are seeking further training in order to perform God's work better makes us very proud of our staff and the work which is being performed daily by every individual. The lecture method was chosen as the most effective way in which to teach this course.

God Sends Pastor to Discouraged Church

GROVELAND, Fla.—Last May we were without a pastor and were very much discouraged. The church decided we were not praying enough, so we began to pray to God to send us a pastor. One Sunday morning when we gathered at church, a strange car drove up and Brother and Sister Heaston came in the church, saying our overseer sent them to us. We certainly are grateful for them and we praise God that He chose them for Groveland. It seems they knew just how to take hold and help us pray. They certainly have the church at heart.

The next thing was to get them a place to live. As houses were very scarce we rented them a trailer. We were promised a house by the middle of June, which would be after camp meeting. Brother Heaston met with the members and friends of the church and decided to try to work it out some way that we could build a parsonage. God answered prayer and after camp meeting the men started working. It seems one thing and another hindered, but with the help of our good district pastor, Brother R. P. Culpepper, of Linden, and the men and friends of the churches, we completed it. We are very proud of the parsonage.

The church bought a bedroom suite, kitchen stove and refrigerator. A furniture man who is a friend of the church donated a nice three-piece living room suite, end table, coffee table and lamp. A brother of the church gave a nice five-piece dinette set. We do praise the Lord for it, because it is just through His mercy that these things were accomplished. We want everyone to help us pray that souls will be saved.

Church Remodeled; New Furniture Purchased

PAMPA, Tex.—We have been doing so much work here that we would like to tell everyone about it. In July of last year Brother and Sister Rodgers were sent to us as our new pastor. We have all worked together these eight months and the church certainly shows the results. We have made 3 new Sunday School rooms, and bought new folding chairs for 6 of our 10 classes. All the church has been painted inside and out. We have put hardwood flooring in our auditorium and remodeled our platform. The Ladies' Willing Workers' Band has purchased an automatic washer, living room suite, and extra chair for the parsonage and mimeograph machine for the church.

We have begun to publish a church bulletin each week and our Sunday School is beginning to grow. Our remodeling and furnishing have come to a total of $3,558.57, and we owe only a very small part of that. God is good to us and we are thankful for all of His blessings.

—Biliee Laramore, reporter

ARE YOU PREPARING FOR YOUR VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL? YOU SHOULD BE!

When one realizes that out of 168 hours in the week only one-half hour is given to teaching the Word of God in Sunday School, he readily understands how very important and essential a Vacation Bible School is to a local church. If properly planned and conducted, a V.B.S. can be one of the most fruitful phases of a local church's evangelistic program.

Already your church should have chosen its V.B.S. director and staff. If you have not selected your staff, please do so immediately so they will have ample time to study, pray and prepare. After your V.B.S. staff is appointed, they should meet immediately to plan the school and to arrange for its wide advertising.

The National Sunday School and Youth Board recommends night V.B.S. sessions for those churches which find a conflict in their schedules for day classes. The Board also strongly recommends classes for adults in V.B.S.'s conducted at night.

In the event the month of June (V.B.S. month) is too filled with other activities such as camp meeting, youth camps, etc., it is recommended, if at all possible, that V.B.S.'s (night or day sessions) be held during the month of May.

The V.B.S. course for 1958 is "Exploring God's Wonders." Order your sample packet today (only $3.15) for adequate preparation. Also order your free 1958 V.B.S. guidebook. Both of these may be ordered from the Church of God Publishing House, 1080 Montgomery Avenue, Cleveland, Tennessee.

National Youth Director

BAIRD

The Reverend Joshua Baird, 85, retired Church of God minister, departed this life October, 1957. He was a native of Campbell County, Tennessee, and had lived in the Akron, Ohio, vicinity for the past 9 years. He pastored churches in the following places: Elk Valley, Tennessee; Salem, Indiana; and Akron, Ohio. He built the church in Salem, Indiana. One of his life's greatest works was in the hospital just before his death. He quoted many Scripture verses as the doctors and nurses gathered around his bed. All were weeping as his soul winged its flight to the world on high where there is peace and rest for the pure. Brother Baird's favorite song was "I'm just another wayworn pilgrim, plodding toward Jerusalem, looking for a happy home in heaven, far beyond the valleys dim. I have nothing but my faith in Jesus and His everlasting grace, but I know that ere the sun is sinking, I will have a resting place." He is survived by 6 daughters, 6 sons, 37 grandchildren, 36 great-grandchildren, 2 brothers and 2 sisters.

MERCER

Brother W. Vann Mercer, age 75, departed this life on February 24, 1958, from his home near Chadbourn, North Carolina. He was a faithful member of the Wards Station Church of God.

He was converted early in life, thus having an opportunity to give many years of service to God and the Church. His work as a lay minister and member of the Church of God was very valuable in the beginning of several of our churches. The only regret we have is that we had to suffer such great loss for heaven to gain.

Funeral services were conducted at the Wards Station Church of God on February 26, with the Reverend Kenneth E. Rouse, pastor, officiating; the Reverend Harvey Penny, former pastor, and the Reverend A. M. Stephens assisting.

Brother Mercer is survived by his wife, 4 sons, 5 daughters, 1 brother and 42 grandchildren.

Holy Ghost Has Been Great Blessing in Life for Many Years

HAZLEHURST, Ga. — I truly thank Jesus because I have been redeemed by His blood. I thank Him for the good Holy Ghost I received when I was 12 years old. I am 48 now and He is still precious and sweet to me today. I am so happy that I am still serving Jesus and so glad I accepted Him in my youth. When I think about that part of my life that has passed, I wonder what I would have done without Jesus in my soul. He has kept me through persecution and trials. Let me speak to you young people who are living for Jesus. Hold out faithful, for Jesus will keep you from the evils of this sinful world. The devil has many traps set for young people today that would be the ruin of their lives and souls. Do pray and hold to Jesus' unchanging hand.

I don't have the privilege of going to church very often, but I am so glad I'm living for Jesus. I still pray much for the upbuilding of my church and for my pastor, family, and brothers and sisters in the Lord. I feel the need of God's children to band together in prayer as they never have before. Praise His wonderful name. I praise Jesus for His healing power, for I know He can heal. I want all who read this to pray a special prayer for me that the dear Lord will heal my body of stomach trouble and that a way will be opened for me to attend church. —Sister Viola Hand

Jesus Has Been a Special Friend Throughout Many Years

CORDOVA, Ala.—I love the Evangel and read it over and over. It is a blessing to me. I am a widow and live alone and it is so lonesome with no one to talk to, but God is good to me and I love Him and want to serve Him in the beauty of holiness. Jesus is a real, living Saviour to me. Many times I feel His presence so real it is like someone standing by me. He has been my Friend many years. He has been with me in trouble and sickness, and when death came into my home He was there to help me. Surely there is no friend so great as He. Truly I mean to live true and humble before Him so when this life is over He will be there to receive my spirit and carry me to the place He has prepared for them that love Him and keep His commandments. There we shall have angels for company, praise His holy name. I should like for my friends to write to me. My address is Mrs. Minnie Thomason, Cordova, Alabama. May God bless and may His Spirit go with the Evangel and make it a blessing wherever it goes.

—Mrs. Minnie Thomason

God Wrought a Miracle in My Life

HIGH POINT, N. C.—I do want to sound a note of praise to such a wonderful Saviour and Lord Jesus.

For twenty years my health had been really bad. I was never free of pain one whole day at a time. The doctors said there was nothing that could be done except go to the hospital. Finally, in 1942 I went to the hospital in High Point and had seven operations in one and had three blood transfusions, but that did not seem to do me very much good. I still had to take medicine every day or shots for my blood. In 1944, I was back in the hospital, where I had another operation, this time for a different thing. I had to have three more blood transfusions. I still was not much better, and still had to take medicine all the time. In 1950, I was back in the hospital for the same operation that I had in 1944. This time I was so low that they could not even put me to sleep and had to operate with me awake. I really believed my time had come. They called my relatives in; when I saw my sister I knew they did not think I would make it, but I know now that the hand of God was upon me. I realize the Lord was with me and He had a reason to save my life. At this time my blood was down to 36. I had seven more transfusions, and I was sent home with very little hope that I would ever be any better, and that I would have to take medicine all my life.

I kept dragging on and taking medicine every day until 1954. I got so bad that I had to go back to the hospital for the same operation I had in 1944 and 1950. This was the third operation for the same thing. By this time I was almost a complete nervous wreck, but I just kept on serving the devil and had to keep on taking medicine.

On December 19, 1955, my husband had a heart attack and died suddenly. I felt my world had come to an end. At this time my only son was in the army. I began to take dope and just lived with my mouth full of snuff; the only time I had the stuff out of my mouth was to eat. I had been a "snuff-eater" for 24 years. I could not sleep at night unless I took enough dope to put me to sleep. Many nights it would begin to break dawn before I could even doze. My son and daughter begged me to go to my sister's home in West Virginia and stay a while. I believe now that they thought I was going crazy, and I suppose I was, for the enemy had such a hold on me I believe I was really demon-possessed.

By this time I was taking $8.50 worth of highly doped medicine a week besides about a dozen aspirins a day. My son that was in the army was sent overseas to Germany. This was just one month and nine days after my husband died and I really thought that would be the end for me. I felt I just could not go on, but the hand of God was still over my life. Oh, glory to God, things changed for me and now I look back and thank God that even though the devil had me bound, the Lord saw fit to reach out and deliver me.

For over six years I had worked with a Church of God member, Sister Lillie Mae Grosses. She kept asking me to come to the Church of God, but I just kept making excuses to her. I felt that there was no use in trying to go or do anything. She said she kept praying for me, and she asked her pastor, Brother Harold F. Douglas, to visit me. One day he came to see me and asked me if I minded his having a word of prayer for me.

At that time I had a mouth full of snuff, but when he prayed, I knew that if I ever got any help it would be from the Lord. I began thinking about where I was standing and how lost I was; I realized that I really did need God's help, that He alone could do me any good. I had tried every other thing and it had failed, so I made up my mind then and there that if God would save me after I had served sin and the devil so long, I would put my whole life in His hands. Brother and Sister George Rogers came by and took me to the East Commerce Street Church of God, and that night I knelt at an old-fashioned altar for prayer. Oh, glory to God, He rolled the burden of sin away, healed my body, and delivered me from the snuff habit. I have not wanted any more. Since that time I have not taken a drop of medicine or any aspirins, not even one dose of anything. God instantly healed me. That happened April 8, 1956. That was over 2 years ago and I am still healed. Since then I have been sanctified and baptized with the sweet Holy Ghost, baptized in water and added to the great Church of God.

I can truly say that since getting saved, I have really just started to live. I now feel better; I enjoy life more; I am happier than I have ever been. This year was the first camp meeting I ever attended, and I really did enjoy it.

God has done so much for me. I want to spend the rest of my life praising Him and trying to win souls to Him. —Ella Mabe

Healed After Nervous Breakdown

HURST, Texas—I should like to report some of the good things God is doing for us here at the Church of God at Hurst.

Our church has been finished only three months, and God is surely rewarding our efforts for Him.

We had our church dedication December 1, 1957. Since that time new people have been coming in and testifying of being blessed and healed of God.

Last week a dear sister had a terrible nervous breakdown. She couldn't let her best friends come into her room. After some hours had passed the pastor and his wife, Brother and Sister T. J. O'Neal, were invited into her home. They prayed and touched heaven for her and left her an anointed cloth to wear. Praise be unto God, the Lord healed her and she was in Sunday School and church that very Sunday, testifying how the devil tempted her to use her butcher knife and end her troubles. She felt there was nothing to live for, but she said, "Praise God, when God sent Brother and Sister O'Neal and they prayed for me, I knew there was life, for I was healed."

There were several others that week who were healed and testified to their healing.

We are praising God for His wonderful healing power and for the good mellow spirit that prevails throughout each of our services here at Hurst. We are asking every person to pray for us that we will win many new souls for God here in this new territory.

—Sister Hursel King,
church reporter

He said He would. I pray that all of us will trust Him for the healing of our bodies. If ever there was a time we need to be serious about a thing, it is now. God help us as the Church of God to believe more and trust Him for everything.

Please pray for my unsaved children. I have 11 children and 7 are at home. I have 2 boys that are in service. Pray that God will protect them. One is overseas; pray for his soul; the other is still in the States. He began praying before he left home. Please pray that he will continue to do so. Pray for my husband. I am left with the children, but I do praise the Lord that He has kept us and supplied our needs. I cannot praise Him enough for the way He has blessed us. Pray that I will always continue in the will of the Lord, that my family will always have a way to be in the house of God, and that I will be the mother that I should be. Also pray for Brother McDaniel and his wife. They are two wonderful people. Pray for our church here at Sprague that many souls will be added. Pray for the Church of God at Eccles where Brother Kises is the pastor. They are starting a revival soon; pray that many souls will be saved during this revival.

—Mrs. Beulah Scalf

"The Lord Is Our Healer"

SPRAGUE, W. Va.—I want to testify for my Saviour and try to tell what He means to me. I know I could never tell with words just what I feel in my soul. I praise Him for salvation. I am not writing my testimony to be boasting, but I trust that whoever reads this may be blessed. When I was called into the ministry I was working, and the devil told me my family would starve if I quit work, and I preached only a few messages. I did not trust God and I backsld. You who know the Lord, don't ever turn and look back to this old world. It is dangerous to go back and you will be enticed into things you never did before. If the Lord tells you to do a thing, you had better do it, for in the days to come you will reap whatever you sow.

I do praise Him because He was so merciful to me and took me back. I thank Him that He called me to preach the gospel. Please pray for me that I will be shown by the Holy Ghost just which place He wants me to go and that many souls will be saved. I am sure Jesus is coming soon and I want to be ready.

I am glad the Lord is our healer. Sometimes we testify and say we trust the Lord for everything and then when we get sick we don't trust Him. Jesus will do just what

God Heals Child of Influenza

MASON, Mich.—I enjoy the Evangel so much that I don't want to miss a one. I've been getting it almost two years. It certainly is a faith-builder to me. I praise the Lord for saving, sanctifying, and filling me with heaven's Holy Ghost. We are serving a great God and a wonderful Saviour. He has healed my children at different times. One of my little boys was very sick with the influenza. At one time his little eyes were set, looking toward heaven. I knew something must be done, so I started praying for him. He had not eaten a thing in two or three days, but by evening the day I prayed for him he was eating. About an hour after I prayed he said, "Mama, I want some milk." Truly, the Lord cares for us. Pray that my husband will be saved and that I will be a living witness for the Lord wherever I may go. There is not a Church of God of our faith in Mason. Pray for me that I will stand true to the Lord.

NEEDED—A SUNDAY SCHOOL REVOLUTION!

Sunday School secretaries from 17 different denominations and a number of other Sunday School leaders met in the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago, January 7-10 for what Dr. Clete A. Risley, executive secretary of NSSA, termed one of the most important meetings of the year.

Called together annually by the National Sunday School Association these leaders discussed the Sunday School needs, especially in the United States. Realistically aware of the major problems they laid plans designed to correct past failures and increase Sunday School efficiency to the maximum in the coming years.

MISSILE AGE PROGRAM

Out-of-date procedures, the behind-the-time ideas were blamed for the weak areas in the average Sunday School. The leaders agreed that methods as modern as the missile must be coupled together with the message of God's Word to reach today's man. With modern mechanics and supernatural dynamics a Sunday School revolution is inevitable.

ATTITUDE SURVEY CONSIDERED

A Sunday School attitude survey designed to point out needy areas in the Sunday School program was presented by Mr. Willard Erickson, a specialist in the field of industrial relations. The decision to continue the study of this project indicates Sunday School leaders' willingness to open their eyes to every possible criticism and avenue of improvement. There is hope that such a program may enable the top leaders to help the local leadership determine their needs and how they can plan to meet them. These national leaders were well aware of the fact that it is one thing for them to be alert to needs, and another thing to have the local churches alert to these needs.

Again the national secretaries recognized the pastor as the key personality in bringing about a Sunday School revolution at the local church level. Encouraged by the increased interest of pastors in all denominational groups they felt that a still greater interest was one of the major hurdles blocking increased efficiency.

ARCHITECTURAL NEEDS STUDIED

Mr. Joseph Kimbel, guest architect, addressed the group. A discussion of present needs in Sunday School building followed. Many Sunday Schools are investing large sums of money in poorly designed facilities. Although small classes were favored by most of the representatives, it was agreed that buildings should be functionally designed with the department given primary consideration. The group hopes that more specific help can be given to local churches in the near future.

FUTURE EMPHASSES

Although the perennial slogan of the National Sunday School Association is "Revitalizing the Sunday Schools of America" it was determined that a current theme continuing through 1960 with annual adaptations would be "Christ for the Millions . . . NOW!"

Dr. Edwin J. Potts, NSSA editorial assistant, in his message on "The Home and the Sunday School" reminded the leaders of the importance of keeping the Sunday School and church family-conscious in all its program planning. He stated that many of our programs defeat their own purpose by dividing rather than unifying the family.

SOLUTIONS SUMMARIZED

Dr. Risley summarized the four-day conference by saying, "We must have a balanced up-to-date program in which all aspects of Christian education are manned and planned with unity and with the pastor taking more than an active interest, through vigorous leadership. In order that this may be done better we must strengthen the ties between the local church, the denominations, all Christian schools, and NSSA. Together we may expect to make great strides of progress; alone we shall be defeated."

South Africa Bible Version Alters Song of Solomon

A new version of the Bible has appeared in Capetown, South Africa, in which the Song of Solomon has been rewritten to comply with the country's stringent segregation laws. The version is in South African Dutch, who have enacted what are perhaps the sternest color laws in the world.

The established version of Song of Solomon 1:5 describing the "Rose of Sharon—lily of the valley" reads: "I am black but comely, O ye daughters of Jerusalem. . . ." The revised Afrikaans Bible gives Solomon's desired one a healthy tan. It reads: "I am comely, and burnt brown by the sun. . . ."

Clergymen Entitled to Deduction for Utilities

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(RNS)—The Internal Revenue Service said here that a minister who receives his parsonage rent-free but pays for his utilities can deduct the cost of these utilities for income tax purposes if a part of his salary is set aside as a "housing allowance."

Such allowance will be deductible from gross income for tax purposes to the extent actually used to pay utility bills.

The provision is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1955. A minister can be eligible for a refund on 1955 and 1956 taxes if his church adopts a resolution retroactively designating that part of his income is a housing allowance.

Tax officials said that such retroactive resolutions should be adopted by Dec. 31, 1957.

The housing allowance does not have to be paid the clergyman by separate check. It merely needs to be set up on the books of the church or religious agency so that it is separately identifiable.

The Internal Revenue Service made its statement to clarify a utility provision in new regulations for clergymen which it issued in June. Those regulations enable many clergymen to claim refund for taxes paid on housing allowances in the years 1954-56.

They also exempt from taxes any expense incurred by a clergyman in obtaining housing, including amounts paid for purchase of a house or for maintenance and utilities in a house already owned by him.

Anglican Theologian Asks "Will Spacemen Need Christ?"

One of the most provocative articles in any religious publication since the Russians launched their earth-circling satellite appeared recently in the Anglican Theological Review. Theologian James M. Malloch wrote that all of the questions in Christology raised by the possibility of millions of other inhabited planets in the universe are just as real as they are speculative. They are more staggering, Dr. Malloch believes, than the religious problems created by the theory of evolution in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. He raised the question of whether the church will need to provide missionaries for Mars, and wondered if the spaceman will need Christ.

Dr. Malloch came to no conclusions in his brief article, but he did ask some very important questions. For instance he wrote:

"Due to advancing astronomical knowledge, theologians are beginning to be aware of a very big problem. . . . What has God done to redeem those beings inhabiting other planets or do they need redemption like the human race?

"We can imagine that God incarnates Himself in conscious intelligent life on other planets, as He has done for this planet (but) this introduces a new idea into Christianity. . . . This idea would stretch the incarnation astronomically. It also staggers the Christian imagination. . . . It is not easy to think of a million Bethlehems and a million Golgothas. . . .

Dr. Malloch ventured a solution: ". . . Is it possible that in the Bible there is implicit a doctrine of universal salvation, which is being made explicit in our time by astronomy, making earth the cosmic altar and Jesus the cosmic sacrificial victim? Does the unity of creation and providence imply a unity of redemption also?"

Finally, Dr. Malloch raised another question: "If we reach Mars will we be under obligation to evangelize it? Does the Great Commission of Matthew 28:18-20 extend beyond our planet earth? Or if we found another faith on Mars, would we have to accept it as the gift of God to another planet with which we had no business whatever to interfere? If we moved to Mars to live permanently, would we be obligated to accept for ourselves the God-given religion we found there or would we be expected to remain permanently Christians anywhere in the universe, because we are human?"

The article concludes with a challenge: "Theologians have handled successfully, I think, the problems in Christianity raised successively by Copernicus, Galileo and Darwin. Let them now tackle the serious theological problem raised by Mars."

U.S. Census Bureau Release Report on Mixed Marriages

A further report based on a sampling last year by the U.S. Census Bureau, when it was testing the possibility of including a question concerning religious preference, indicates that six per cent of the married couples in the U.S. have different religious faiths.

The estimate of marital status indicated that there are 26.9 million marriages where both partners are Protestant, 8.3 million Roman Catholic, and 1.2 million Jewish. In mixed marriages, there are 2,255,000 between a Protestant and a Catholic; 57,000 between a Protestant and a Jew; and 41,000 between a Catholic and a Jew.

Contrary to popular belief, the survey showed that Roman Catholic families are not larger than Protestant ones. It indicated that 66.2 per cent of the population identify themselves as Protestants and have 68.8 per cent of the children under 14. About 25.7 per cent are Roman Catholics and have 26.5 per cent of the children. About 3.2 per cent are Jewish, with only 2.5 per cent of the children.

Washington Post Hits Jesuit Public Aid Bid

Jesuit proposals for federal aid to all education, if they represent the Roman Catholic Church as a whole, could doom any federal aid program. This point was contained in an editorial published recently in the Washington Post. The editorial attacked a proposal made earlier in the month by 28 Jesuit college presidents. The Jesuit proposals further endanger two principles, the Post said — those of separation of church and state and of independence of private schools.

Jesuit college presidents announced their proposal that money in President Eisenhower's current program for federal aid for scientific education be distributed across the board to all educational institutions. Speaking in favor of federal aid to education but against aid to private and sectarian schools, the Post editorial said: "Their (the Jesuit) support of federal aid to private schools is disastrous and could, if they speak for the Catholic Church as a whole, irretrievably doom any federal aid program."

The Post editorial declared that the federal government could not aid sectarian schools without "demanding of them a conformity, already given by the public schools, to the idea of free schooling for all applicants, to commonly accepted doctrines of education and to the principle of separation of church and state." The paper then asked, "Could church schools . . . accept aid from Caesar without rendering a good deal unto Caesar in return?"

In a word of caution to those proposing federal aid "for all institutions," the Post said "they open up a controversy involving complex questions of constitutional law and fundamental principles of the American political system." The Post valued very highly the place of independent and parochial schools in this country. It pointed out that their distinctive contribution had been made largely because of their independence and freedom from government control. "That independence," concluded the editorial, "ought not to be compromised in an effort which can operate, as it has done in the past, only to deprive public schools of aid which they desperately need and are entitled to receive."

NEW YORK — Four additional U.S. publishing firms have been authorized to publish the Revised Standard Version of the Bible, starting in 1962, and a contract with a fifth is in negotiation. This step by the National Council of Churches, which holds the copyright on the R.S.V., will end the monopoly which Thomas Nelson and Sons have had on the printing of the new Bible version. The development results from increasing use of the version. Since 1952 nearly 6 million copies of the R.S.V. Bible have been sold, plus 3½ million copies of the R.S.V. New Testament.

This is a striking view of Nazareth in Galilee, the town where Mary and Joseph lived and from where they journeyed south to Bethlehem.

Moscow Radio Complains of Religion's Increasing Influence

The Moscow Radio, in a German-language broadcast, complained that young Germans living in the USSR are becoming increasingly influenced by religion. It blamed the situation on the Komsomol, the Communist youth organization, which, it said, fails to provide them with interesting ways of spending their free time. As a result, the station said, these young people either "drift to drink, or allow themselves to be enticed into places of worship where they are diverted into a superstitious, religion-ridden way of life."

Minneapolis Pastor Reports Russian Self-Confidence Growth

The people of Moscow are not at all inclined to gloat over their sputniks and other scientific accomplishments, Dr. Reuben K. Youngdahl reported on his return from a visit to the Russian capital. "Invariably it was I who brought up the subject," he said. "And they were hesitant to talk to an American about it." Dr. Youngdahl, pastor of Mount Olive Lutheran church, Minneapolis, said this was not because they fear their police. "Rather," he said, "they were afraid of the reaction of an American."

He explained, "The Russians I spoke to are desperately afraid that their sputniks may lead to an arms race with the United States, and an eventual war. Everyone I spoke to soft-pedaled the military implications of their satellites." The Russian men-in-the-street, the clergyman added, are terribly worried about America's military buildup. And their rulers don't let them forget the American military bases all around them, he pointed out.

However, the Russians' self-confidence has grown since his last visit two years ago, Dr. Youngdahl observed. "Over and over they told me that they will conquer the world by peaceful means. They point to their progress and the way they are catching up with us, and say it won't be too long."

LONDON — A member of the British Parliament, returning from Russia, reported an odd complaint against the Baptists in Russia. He said an organ of the Communist youth organization labelled Baptists as "particularly dangerous, for among them the laymen are also evangelists." The paper complained that "every Russian Baptist tries to win at least one adherent to his faith."

"Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you."

Scripture, Psalm 46:10

"Be still, and know that I am God." To be still is not in character for the average American today. In this age when leisure time is reportedly more abundant than ever before, life is quite complex with all its hustle. A Bedouin was once asked, "How do you know whether there be a God?" He replied, "How do I know whether a camel or a man passed my tent last night? By the footprints in the sand." God help us to become still enough to notice His footprints and see if we are walking therein.

May we learn to be still and let God talk to us.

Scripture, Psalm 23:1

"The Lord is my shepherd. Let us learn as Luther did; looking out of his window one summer evening, he saw on a tree at hand a little bird making preparations for a night's rest. "Look," said he, "how that little fellow preaches faith to us all. He takes hold of his twig, tucks his head under his wing, and goes to sleep, leaving God to think for him." If the Lord is really our Shepherd He is capable of leading us in paths of righteousness.

May we learn to follow Jesus.

Scripture, Hebrews 10:23

"He is faithful that promised." Oliver Cromwell's secretary was dispatched to the continent on some important business. He stayed one night at a seaport town, and tossed on his bed, unable to sleep. He awakened his servant telling him he was afraid something would go wrong with the embassage. The valet began to ask his master a few questions.

"Master, did God rule the world before we were born?"

"Most assuredly He did," was the answer.

"And will He rule it again after we are dead?"

"Certainly He will."

"Then, master, why not let Him rule the present, too?"

May we learn to trust Jesus.

Scripture, Genesis 18:14

"Is anything too hard for the Lord?" We have been told by the Lord to cast our cares upon Him, for He cares for us. Nothing is too hard for our God, and our load would be so much lighter and our path so much brighter if we could only learn to trust in Him. Macduff said, "Trust God where you cannot trace Him. Do not try to penetrate the cloud He brings over you; rather look to the bow that is on it. The mystery is God's; the promise is yours!"

May we cast our all upon Jesus.

Scripture, Proverbs 30:5

". . . He is a shield unto them that put their trust in him." If God be for us who can be against us? One writer said, "He is my sword and my shield." Flee in your troubles to Jesus Christ. No man ever had so kind a friend as He, or so good a Master. View Him not at a distance, but as a prop, a stay and a Comforter, a present help in time of need. He it is who will fight our battles for us if only we ask Him to do so.

May we learn to let Him fight our battles for us.

Scripture, Matthew 11:28

"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." This invitation is so gracious, so easy, and yet so hard to accept. We can receive this "rest" from the Lord by kneeling at an altar of prayer. This altar may be anywhere we can meet Jesus. It is so difficult in these busy days to relax and spend some time with the Lord! We hear so much today of vitamin deficiencies and ailments caused by their shortage in our bodies. Yet, many souls today are suffering from a spiritual deficiency that could be remedied by consulting the great Physician, the sympathizing Saviour.

May we learn to trust Jesus for all our needs.
